SMALL BOY DIES OF 'GREENS' POISONING

Roy Lemen Matthews, Age 3 Years, Unable to Survive Attack Suffered by Whole Family

AUTOPSY IS PERFORMED

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Matthews and Three Living Southeast of Indiana State Library

Roy Lemen Matthews, 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Matthews, living southeast of Milroy on the Cary O. Patton farm, died Friday evening at five o'clock, following a week's illness with poisoning, believed to have been caused from eating a mess of "greens."

The parents and two other children were all taken ill one week ago Friday after having eaten a cooked gathering of several different kinds of "greens," including pope, dandelions, rhubarb leaves and horse radish tops.

Physicians were summoned to the home, and found all five members suffering with acute poisoning. All of the members of the family, excepting the smallest child, survived the attack by vomiting. The baby absorbed the poisoning, which went over his system. An autopsy was performed, but only a poisonous condition was found to exist.

Dr. M. C. Sexton of this city, one of the physicians, stated that it was believed that when the "greens" were picked, that some poison weed was picked by mistake and cooked with them.

The little boy was unconscious for several days. Besides the parents, he leaves the two older brothers.

Services will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence, in charge of the Rev. R. R. Cross, and burial will be made in the Milroy cemetery.

MERCHANDISE CARS ARE BROKEN INTO

Big Four Railroad Suffers Loss But Two Other Lines Escape Because of Their Contents

ROBBERS LIKED "SWEETS"

Freight cars on sidetracks of three railroads in Rushville were entered by thieves, it was discovered Friday noon by officials, but only the Big Four railroad reported any loss when two merchandise cars were ransacked.

In these cars, E. C. McMahon, local agent stated, the seals were broken, and the robbers searched among the contents. A check was made, and 150 pounds of candy consigned to the Wiltse Company was stolen, and also seven rugs consigned to Will Leach. The rugs, some of which were small ones, were valued at $125. In addition some groceries and two boxes of raisins, shipped to Winfield Stephens, local baker, were stolen, according to the check on the car.

The things stolen here would not harmonize with the contents of the other cars broken into, which included two car loads of fertilizer on the C. I. & W. tracks, and two car loads of wire fencing on the Nickel Plate tracks near their station. In these cases, nothing was disturbed. Detectives from the railroads were expected today to start an investigation into the robberies.

The All Rite company of this city, manufacturers of electrical appliances, has perfected and now has in production the All Rite Grill, a popular priced, sandwich machine similar to those seen in drug stores and candy kitchens.

The company has already begun shipments on the machine and sees a bright future for it. It is produced much more cheaply than others on the market and is being sold at about half the price that others have been bringing.

BULLETIN

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18—David C. Stephenson, ousted grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan of Indiana today was indicted by the Marion county grand jury on first degree murder charge, for the death of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, Indianapolis girl.

Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, alleged conspirators in the kidnapping of Miss Oberholtzer from her father's home here, were also charged with murder.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18—Women's organizations of Indianapolis today demanded justice in the Oberholtzer case.

Aroused by evidence brought out at the coroner's inquest into the death of Miss Madge Oberholtzer from poison taken after an alleged attack by D. C. Stephenson, former Klan leader, half a dozen clubs passed resolutions calling for a thorough investigation and punishment of the offenders.

"We deplore the tragedy and want justice done," said resolutions passed by the Irrington Tuesday club, an organization of women living in the neighborhood of the Oberholtzer home. "Miss Oberholtzer was fearless and independent and we vouch for her splendid character."

Prosecutor Remy refused to give any intimation of his next move in the prosecution of Stephenson, saying he did not want to reveal his hand to the defense too soon.

Stephenson is already awaiting trial on indictments charging him with abducting and assaulting Miss Oberholtzer.

Newman T. Miller, state fire marshal, started an investigation of the blaze which gutted the interior of Stephenson's palatial home in Irrington early Friday.

Coroner Robinson's inquest was completed with the testimony of George Oberholtzer, father of the dead girl.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

The old and the most up-to-date methods of printing were contrasted when Winfield Scott Conde, better known as plain Scott, called at the Daily Republican office Friday evening to see the new Meikle Vertical, automatic feed job printing press which the Republican installed this week.

Mr. Conde, who is the oldest printer in Rushville, harks back to the early days when operating presses with electricity was unthought of and when automatic feeds were not regarded as within the realm of possibility.

Mr. Conde took up the printing trade sixty-eight years ago, when a lad of fifteen, and served an apprenticeship on local newspapers. He later worked on the old Indianapolis Journal and Indianapolis Sentinel. Mr. Conde is a veteran of the civil war.

NO COURT VACATION BETWEEN 2 TERMS

Week Ordinarily Elapsing Will be Devoted to Make up Time Lost Recently

ACTION TAKEN IN CASES

Blanche Riley Granted Divorce From Earl Riley on Payment of Costs—Special Judge Here

With the February term of court officially ending a week from today, April 25, there will be no vacation between court terms, and the present term will be extended during the week, according to Judge Sparks, who is taking this measure in order to make up lost time during his three weeks illness recently.

The court is anxious to dispose of as many cases as possible during the next few weeks, because the May term is a short one, and precedes the summer vacation.

Today in court, Judge Robert Murray of Muncie, judge of the Delaware Superior court, was here on an issue in the case of Lake vs. Lake of which he is special judge. The complaint was a venue suit from Fayette county several months ago, and today he sustained a demurrer to the amended complaint and sustained a motion filed by the plaintiff to file a second amended

DRAMATIC INTEREST IN WHEELER TRIAL

Mystery Surrounds Identity of "Washington Attorney" on Whom Prosecution Depends

WILL BE KEPT A SECRET

Washington: Attorneys Already Mentioned in Case Disclaim Knowledge of Oil Deals

By PAUL R. MALLON (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Great Falls, Mont., April 18—Dramatic interest was aroused today when new developments deepened the mystery surrounding the identity of "the Washington attorney" upon whom the prosecution is depending for evidence to convict Senator Burton K. Wheeler, on trial here for alleged misuse of office.

John L. Slattery, chief prosecutor announced that he would keep the identity of his mystery witness secret until he goes on the stand this afternoon or Monday.

"I have promised the jury to furnish such a witness and I will do it," Slattery said.

Slattery made this statement as the trial went into its third day, after he had been informed that Peter O. Nyce, Washington attorney, now enroute here as a witness had authorized a statement through his law partner, former Senator George E. Chamberlain, that he knew nothing of a "shady million dollar oil deal," and that no effort had been made by Wheeler to interest him in such an affair.

The only two other Washington attorneys now here as witnesses disclaim any knowledge of the affair and the chief discussion in hotel corridors now centers around these strange developments, and the possibility of whether or not Slattery will be able to make his promise good.

It is now admitted that the chief hope of the prosecution centers in the ability to produce this witness. The defense claims that there is no such man and is anxiously waiting to be shown.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, chief defense counsel intends to make an effort to have the case thrown out of court on the ground of insufficient evidence as soon as the prosecution is concluded.

Starting in with the third day Slattery produced records containing the history of the three government oil drilling permits and began the lengthy and tedious process of

PLANTS TREE IN HONOR OF TEACHER

Jackson School Pupils Observe Arbor Day by Paying Tribute to Miss Belle Gregg

FINE PROGRAM IS GIVEN

Cut Leaf Birch Planted in Front Yard of Building and Weeping Willow on North Side

Miss Belle Gregg, principal of the Jackson school building, was honored Friday afternoon at exercises held in connection with Arbor Day, and the pupils of the school planted a tree in the front yard of the school in memory of the pioneer teacher.

Miss Gregg stands foremost in the minds of the school children of Rushville, all of whom love her, and when Arbor Day was approaching, it was their plan to donate their pennies with which to purchase the tree, and plant it in her memory.

A cut leaf birch, a rare species, was purchased for the occasion, and appropriate exercises commemorating Arbor Day were carried out by the school children, terminating with the planting of the tree.

Miss Gregg has been ill at her home for several weeks, and was unable to attend the ceremonies. Her condition shows improvement, and she is hoping that she will be able to attend her classes before school adjourns for the summer.

The teachers of the school also purchased a weeping willow tree, which was planted on the north side of the building. In planting the tree in honor of Miss Gregg, the pupils were told by Miss Elizabeth Flint, another teacher at the school, that it was being planted in her memory, and that they should watch it grow, and tell other children in later years that it had been planted in her honor.

Preceding the tree planting, a program was given by the pupils of all grades inside the main corridor of the building, impressing

TUBERCULOSIS CONTROL WORK TO BE DISCUSSED

Dr. Gibson, Federal Veterinarian, Will be Here Monday Evening For County Livestock Meeting

FARMERS ASKED TO ATTEND

Dr. Gibson, federal veterinarian in charge of livestock tuberculosis control work in Indiana, has consented to come to the Rush county meeting of livestock men, to be held at the court house assembly room Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, to explain the policies of the federal government.

Every livestock man in the county is urged to attend the meeting so that a general opinion expressive of the true sentiment in the county may be obtained.

It is known that a great number of Rush county farmers are anxious to get their cattle tested for tuberculosis. Up until last fall farmers of this county have been permitted to have their cattle tested and in case of reaction, they were reimbursed for their loss.

The federal men are now devoting their efforts to counties where the county program calls for a T. B. free area.

COMMANDERY WILL MAKE BIG SHOWING

Rushville Knights Templar Engage Headquarters at Claypool for State Conclave

TO HAVE NEWSBOYS BAND

Especially Anxious to be Well Represented Due to Will M. Sparks Being Grand Officer

Rushville commandery No. 49, Knights Templar, has engaged headquarters on the mezzanine floor of the Claypool hotel and is preparing to make a big showing at the seventy-first annual conclave in Indianapolis May 11 to 14 inclusive.

One of the big events of the conclave is the parade, which this year will be held on Tuesday, May 12, according to the custom there will be awarded three trophies to the three commanderies giving the best exhibition of drill, which will be held immediately following the parade. The Indianapolis News' Newsboys band will lead the local commandery in the parade.

Rushville commandery has won trophies in the past for attendance and this year will be an active competitor again.

Another reason for Rushville commandery's desire to take an active part in the state conclave is the fact that it is represented among the grand officers by Will M. Sparks, who is grand generalissimo. Under the custom of succession that is observed, he will be advanced at the conclave this year to deputy grand commander, and the following year he will become grand commander.

The conclave will open Monday afternoon at two o'clock and at four o'clock a reception will be held at the Claypool hotel for wives and ladies of distinguished guests, followed by a banquet at 6:30 at the Claypool. The same evening there will be a dinner for past grand commanders.

Luncheon the following day will be served to Knights in uniform at the Scottish Rite cathedral and for visiting ladies at the Severin hotel. The parade will move at 1 p. m. There will be degree work at five o'clock and at eight a reception to the grand commander and officers of the grand commandery at the Murat temple.

The opening session of the grand commandery will be held at 9:30 Wednesday morning and there will be an automobile ride the same morning for ladies of distinguished guests. A luncheon for grand commander will be served.

ANNUAL CLEAN-UP IS READY FOR NEXT WEEK

Residents of City Urged to Clean up Yards, Premises and Lots, to Help Beautify the City

FREE HAULING BY THE CITY

Attention was called today to the annual spring clean up in the city of Rushville next week, during which time the week has been set aside by Mayor Thomas in a proclamation, asking the people to follow the usual observance.

In keeping with the annual policy, the city street cleaning department and extra wagons will begin a canvass of the alleys about the middle of the week, and will haul away all accumulations that have been placed there.

The trash and rubbish to be hauled away free by the city, must be in bags, boxes or some kind of a container which will enable the men to load quickly, and not be bothered with shovels. Residents are urged to clean up their yards, premises, vacant lots and alleys and in this way, the entire city will be given a good cleaning for the summer.

Attention was called today to the fact that ashes do not constitute rubbish, and the city wagons will not haul away ashes. This expense must be borne by the persons who have ash piles. Tin cans, properly sacked, will be hauled.

Peoria, Ill.—"I have taken two of Dr. Pierce's remedies, the Favorite Prescription and the Golden Medical Discovery, during expectancy and afterward and my health was greatly improved. My health at such times was extremely delicate and I had incessant coughing spells, which were relieved by taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery'. I always keep a supply of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets on hand for my children to take as a stomach and liver regulator when they are threatened with sluggish liver and constipation. These 'Pellets' are mild and easy to take and give prompt relief."—Mrs. Katherine Sutton, 701 Green St.

SURVEY OF TORNADO DISTRICT NEEDED

Destruction Much Greater Than First Reports from Storm District Showed, it Was Discovered

PERMANENT AWARDS GIVEN

Red Cross Estimated 5,000 Cases in Area Will Need Awards For Property Damages

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18—A careful survey is still needed to determine the extent of loss and destruction caused by the tornado which swept through southern Indiana and Illinois last month, William Fortune, president of the Indianapolis chapter of the Red Cross, declared today.

The destruction was much greater than first reports from the storm district showed, Fortune declared. Many facts relative to insurance, indebtedness and needs of the storm victims are yet to be obtained.

Permanent awards to those who suffered most severely from the storm will be announced next, Fortune said. Many cases for awards are now ready for final consideration.

Work of determining the award assignments is being pushed as rapidly as possible.

The national organization of the Red Cross has estimated that 5,000 cases in the entire storm area will need awards for property damages. Fortune said. He believes this estimate is too low and that the actual number will be near 8,000.

The total number of cases in Indiana in which awards must be granted has been estimated at between 1,200 and 1,500. Fortune thinks this estimate is liberal.

The loss in Indiana has been placed as high as $4,000,000, while that for the entire storm area has been estimated at more than $20,000,000.

It is doubtful whether anything approximating an accurate estimate of the total damage will ever be obtained.

Total contributions received by the Indiana chapter of the Red Cross amount to nearly $105,000. The total contributions for rehabilitation of the whole storm area are upwards of $2,100,000.

The people of Chicago have been the largest contributors, with a total of $1,100,000 reported there. By use of the radio, Sears-Roebuck and company, with the cooperation of farm federations, have raised $300,000.

Fortune praised the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation for its work in the Indiana tornado area. The federation has aided scores of farmers in the stricken district in getting back on their feet.

Most of the land is being put under cultivation in spite of the fact that some of the farmers are living in tents and other makeshift shelters in order to do their work.

Many people in the storm area of Indiana are still so upset by the disaster that they are uncertain as to their needs. Others have shown a sense of pride that prevented them from disclosing their needs.

These two factors, Fortune said, have hampered the speedy and efficient administration of the work of rehabilitation.

People of Griffin, where the fury of the tornado was felt in greatest force in this state, are experiencing difficulty in getting back to their old lives, Fortune said.

The destruction in Griffin was so complete that business men and residents are finding it hard to re-establish themselves.

POULTRY FIELD DAY IS SET FOR NEXT THURSDAY

County Committee Selected Fred McCrory Farm and Roy Jones of Purdue Promises to Come

ARRANGED HERE LAST WINTER

A Rush county Poultry Field Day will be held next Thursday on the Fred McCrory farm east of Rushville, and one and a half miles southeast of Maunzy, in Union township, in accordance with plans made at the county poultry school last winter.

Roy Jones from the poultry extension department of Purdue has promised to be present and discuss feeding and brooding problems which the poultry producer is meeting at this season of the year, and it is believed those at the county poultry meeting last winter will be more than anxious to attend this meeting.

The McCrory farm was selected by the county poultry committee as Mr. McCrory has been working with poultry for 20 years, and during recent years has been breeding pure bred barred plymouth rocks. He has been conducting six breeding pens as Mr. Jones outlined last winter and keeping trap nest records on a number of birds. Anyone attending will be well repaid by exchanging a few ideas with Mr. McCrory, it is said.

"There is scarcely a farm in the county, where a number of chickens are raised, that there is not one or more poultry problems," stated Herschel VanMatre, county agent, today. Come and someone will be there whose experience will enable them to give a solution to your problem."

Tom Mix in "The Orphan"

When Clarence Mafford wrote "The Orphan" he furnished Tom Mix with the greatest motion picture story of his career. It came to the screen last night at the Castle theatre in a superb William Fox production under the title, "The Deadwood Coach." There are more thrills, more swift action, more humor and more scenic beauty in this production than in any Mix picture it has been our pleasure to review.

According to the producers, "The Deadwood Coach" was taken in Zion Canyon, Utah, and for a great picturesque background for this splendid romance of the old West, the location could not be surpassed. The stage coach hold up, the running fights with bandits, the grim hand to hand struggle on the brink of a towering cliff, all are presented in a setting so real, so beautiful as to make you wish that you lived in those blood-tingling days.

The story of "The Deadwood Coach" concerns the Orphan, an outlaw, who is feared throughout the territory, but who, in reality, is the enemy of only one man. When he was a boy, his father was killed by a marauder named Tex Wilson and the Orphan has dedicated his life to vengeance.

"Find Your Man," Princess

If you are fond of dogs, if you like good acting if you appreciate beautiful scenery, if you like thrills and unusual episodes, don't miss "Find Your Man," which is being shown today at the Princess theatre.

Rin-Tin-Tin, a dog with unusual intelligence, whose training cannot be compared to that of any other dog, plays the leading role in this production. He is seen as the courageous hero, risking his life to save his master as the sympathetic friend the bitter enemy. He feels and displays all the emotions of a human being. In fact, he seems to do everything but talk. Rin-Tin-Tin is an ex-soldier It is said that he spent part of his puppyhood on the firing line of France. Perhaps that is what accounts for his fearlessness.

The story, which is laid in a beautiful lumber country, deals with a plot to steal Government timber, in which Paul Andrews, his dog and his sweetheart become involved. Buddy displays some marvelous athletic stunts when he aids in his master's escape from prison and then rescues him and his sweetheart from drowning. Eric St. Clair and June Marlowe show exceptional skill in their portrayal of Paul Andrews and Caroline Blair. Others in the case are Charles Mailles, Pat Hartigan, Fred Stanton, Lew Harvey and Charles Conklin.

Commencement Time

Some schools have passed the great day—commencement—but others are still in session and the students are in the throes of preparation for the big event of their lives, which is a stepping stone to new experiences.

No other occasion in life, save possibly marriage, seems of such tremendous importance to these young people.

They now approach a great landmark of life, a time of fresh beginnings, and face untried issues. But young folks negotiate these sharp breaks with ease. Most of them are delighted to try their inexperienced wings.

Preparing for graduation, in the minds of some young women, means mainly long sessions with the dressmaker and a gorgeous display of fine feathers. The girl of the struggling home sometimes makes more show than one from the abode of wealth.

In the case of the poor girl, her parents may feel that this is her one chance to show that she is as good as anybody, and according to true American standards she is. Her father and mother may make sacrifices on the necessities of life to give her the one big send-off of her life.

Such a thing is to be discouraged and those who are able to make a big show at commencement time can be of great service by setting the pace so that the burden of expense will not be so heavy on those less able to afford it.

The necessity of providing costly graduating clothes and incidentals has deterred some parents from sending their children through high school. The principles of American democracy would have every girl graduate appear in a simple, inexpensive gown, not necessarily uniform in design or color.

Those who adopt such ideas show that school training has put something into their heads. Young people preparing for graduation should have their hearts on higher purposes than dress. They need to keep their minds on the high plane of successful achievement so that they may continue their preparation for life in higher schools of learning.

Good News

The selection of Joseph Caillaux as minister of finance in the new French cabinet is good news, because one of the first things he will undertake is the settlement of war debts.

This will meet with approval of the American government, which is determined to collect its war debts. A meeting of the national debt funding commission has been called to take action. The attitude of the new French minister may smooth the way.

This will meet with approval from palaver and delays, and social and courteous conversation with the representatives of the foreign nations which still stand aloof on their debt responsibilities. It is wholly possible they may gain time, but it can also be said that the most they can hope for is delay. They can never escape the payments.

It is also well understood now that the American people will demand full reimbursement for the use of their money and that the foreign nations in cash will pay for each delay which they secure.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—"I think prohibition is pretty well lived up to. I don't see any drunken men." United States Attorney General John G. Sargent told me recently. That same day the clerk of the District of Columbia police court reported 103 arrests for intoxication in the district during March, one of the largest figures for a single month in the court's whole history, he added.

NOT all public officials are so unsophisticated. Some time ago I asked one of them, whose name I can't mention, but who's on the federal supreme bench now and who formerly held the same post Attorney General

Sargent holds at present, what his solution of the prohibition problem was. In reply he advised me to read a certain article by Clarence Darrow, in the American Mercury.

I did read it. It was called "The Ordeal of Prohibition." In it the Chicagoan told the story of many laws which public opinion didn't support but which, for one reason or another, couldn't be repealed. Invariably, he asserted, after a period of vain effort at enforcement, the government gave up even trying, and the unpopular regulations, while still in the statute books, presently were forgotten, except possibly by a few antiquaries, as curiosities. That, Darrow predicted, will be prohibition's fate.

My anonymous official didn't say he thought so, too, but he did recommend me to read the Darrow article when I put my question. CONVERSATIONS which it seems impossible can lead up to the subject of prohibition nevertheless lead up to it.

Another official I can't refer to by name, but a very well-known one, and a Methodist bishop's son at that, was discussing American education for my benefit lately. "Its strength," he said, "lies in the fact that no attempt ever has been made in this country to force schools on any community. When they were wanted, the people who wanted them established them. Having wanted them, these same people naturally supported them."

"But early in our history there were communities which opposed public education. They'd have rebelled if the central government had tried to cram it down their throats, just as certain communities virtually are in rebellion now against prohibition. That wouldn't have promoted education. It would have retarded it, just as national prohibition has retarded temperance."

EVEN General Lincoln C. Andrews, new secretary of the treasury especially in charge of dry law enforcement, seems none too sure of himself—not yet, at any rate. When I asked him for an interview concerning his plans, here's what he answered:

"As I see my task, perhaps its most difficult element is the one that is engaging me right now—to analyze the situation and try to determine the answer to your question. What enforcement ought to be and is going to be like. When I have determined my answer to that, I feel that the problem will be more than half solved."

and that my course from then on will be quite clear.

"When that time comes I will be very glad to talk it over."

BOLIVIA has abolished legal education. The student-lawyers of today will be allowed to finish up. Then no more lawyers until some of the present crop die off. There are so many that the minister of education says too few other inhabitants remain to do the rest of the work of the country. So the United States charge d'affaires informs the State Department, "A display of eminent common sense," he calls it.

Teachers and pupils were planting trees on Arbor Day at Jackson school. One of the trees was a weeping willow, and each child was called upon to throw in a shovelful of dirt. A little kindergarten pupil balked.

"I don't want that tree to grow," he said, "and make more switches."

Last Thursday Will McMillin, Union township farmer and former county auditor, missed a pair of goats which he had on his farm. A careful search over the farm failed to reveal them.

A straw stack had blown over Monday night during a wind storm and it occurred to him that they might be buried in the straw.

So Mr. McMillin set to work with a pitchfork and after removing about a ton of straw, he "dag up" the goats, as full of pep as they ever were.

They had been covered up for three nights and almost three days without water and feed.

The discovery of a farmer living in southwestern Rush county may offer a solution for many barn fires in Rush county that have always been a mystery.

Two sons of this farmer had complained of matches disappearing off the dresser in their bedroom. It had been a common thing for every match to be carried away.

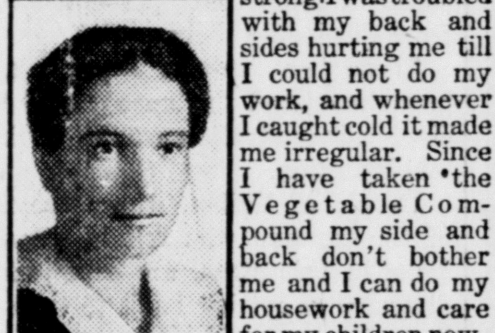

One day not long ago their father saw a sparrow fluttering against the window of their bedroom, and finally go into the room through a small hole in the glass in one corner of the window pane. Soon the bird emerged with a match in his bill and flew to the barn. Several trips were made, and the farmer stood by and watched.

He and the boys went to the barn and tore down all of the sparrows' nests they could find. In one nest alone was more than forty matches, any one of which might have set the barn on fire.

Wellston, O.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make me strong. I was troubled with my back and sides hurting me till I could not do my work, and whenever I caught cold it made me irregular. Since I have taken the Vegetable Compound my side and back don't bother me and I can do my housework and care for my children now, where before I did not feel like doing anything or going around. After my first child was born about four years ago I saw an advertisement in the paper about the Vegetable Compound. I knew it would help me, but I was afraid to try it because people said it would help you to have children and I knew I was having children fast enough. But I thought if it would help me it would be better to have a whole house full of children and have good health. I became stronger from taking it and my husband says I look like a live woman instead of a dead one. When Spring comes I am going to take your Blood Medicine as I am very thin. I will answer letters from any woman who wishes to ask about my medicine."

WINS DUAL MEET AT CONNERSVILLE

Rushville High School Track and Field Team Walks Away With Most of the Events

TAKES ALL BUT 3 FIRSTS

Meet at Shelbyville This Afternoon and Triangular Contest at Greenfield Next Saturday

The Rushville high school track and field team won the dual match against Connersville Friday afternoon in that city, with the final points being 62 to 37. The local squad, in charge of Coach Swain, will meet the team at Shelbyville this afternoon.

The locals show up exceptionally well considering the fact that they have not had much practice or training, and several men will no doubt be contenders in the state meet in May. The locals will take part in a triangular meet next Saturday at Greenfield, with Greencastle being the third team.

In the meet at Connersville Friday, Rushville won all first places excepting three track events which went to Connersville. These were the 440 yard dash, the half mile and mile run.

Rushville won first, second and third in the pole vault, with Newbold, Farthing and Arbuckle finishing, and Connersville failed to place. Miller for Rushville won four firsts, one second and one third.

Miller made the 100 yard dash in eleven seconds and the 220 in 25 seconds. He also made the high hurdles. Lakin won the shot put at 40 feet, 9 inches. Newbold took the low hurdles and Farthing the high jump at 5 feet two inches and he also took second in the broad jump. Snider was second in the half mile.

Connersville won the 440 yard with Thompson finishing first, and Butler for Connersville was first in the half and mile run.

The program was given as follows:

Selection by the first grade. "Three Little Trees", exercise by the second grad.

Song, "Springtime", by the third grade.

DRAMATIC INTEREST IN WHEELER TRIAL

Continued from Page One having them inserted in the records. These are the permits obtained by Gordon Campbell, client of the Wheeler and it is the contention of the prosecution that Wheeler illegally secured them for Campbell.

John M. Cooper, former employee of Gordon Campbell was yesterday's chief witness. His testimony showed that Wheeler was to get $10,000 a year for prosecuting receivership proceedings in Montana courts. Such action is not illegal, it was said. There was no mention of oil permits in any conversations, he said.

from the strain of the tragedy, told in a trembling voice the story of the alleged abduction and assault that Miss Oberholtzer gave him during moments of consciousness as she lay slowly dying from the bi-hloride of mercury poison.

He said his daughter told him she repeatedly begged Stephenson on the way back from Hammond, where the poison was taken, to get medical attention for her but that he refused each time.

"Madge asked me once if I thought Stephenson would be sent to prison," Oberholtzer testified. "I told her I thought he would and she said she was so glad."

"She said Stephenson had told her he wasn't afraid of prosecution because his word was law in Indiana."

The mother of the dead girl was unable to testify at the inquest. She suffered a nervous breakdown after her daughter's funeral Thursday and physicians feared the strain of testifying would have dangerous consequences.

COMMITTEE OF 15 AS ADVISORY BODY

The board wants to get the ideas of all the organizations that will profit from the erection of such a building and to incorporate all that are practical and can be used to serve the needs of every organization of a public nature.

Since the building is first a war memorial, the commissioners expect to give consideration to the patriotic societies who would be entitled to meeting places and convenient headquarters in the building.

The board has been meeting architects informally for some time past and has some general ideas regarding construction and what the plans and experiences of architects are in the erection of such buildings.

Playing Managers Coming Back

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York April 18—Appointment of Eddie Collins as manager of the Chicago White Sox increased the list of playing managers in the majors to six and placed three pennant-contending clubs in the hands of a field director.

Perhaps the most distinguished of the playing managers is Buckey Harris, the youngest manager in baseball, who won a pennant and a world's championship his first time out with the Washington Senators.

Harris blew up two old theories that prompted major league club owners for a good many years to place the management of their clubs in the hands of a man on the bench or the sidelines.

Harris proved that the burden of management does not handicap necessarily the work of a player in the field. There is no doubt in some cases that the strain of directing a club does hurt a player's game, as in the case of Frankie Frisch. Frisch was appointed captain of the New York Giants last year and the captaincy of the National League champions involves more than walking out to the umpires before the game with the line-up. The Giant captain has to do a lot for McGraw on the field in catching and passing the signals from the "master mind" on the bench and he is held responsible for a lot of the team's play. Frisch fell off in his playing and he admitted that the strain was to blame. He perhaps took himself too seriously. Probably he had heard the rumors that McGraw was building him up as his successor and he tried too hard.

Harris was saddled with a terrific burden, however. He not only was taking the management of a veteran club as just a kid, but he was called upon to direct a team that was dashing for its first pennant against the toughest kind of competition. The strain must have been an inspiration instead of a handicap, as he played the best ball of his career.

He also blew up the theory that the management of a team called for qualities that could be attained only by years of experience.

It seems but a year or so since Tris Speaker was somewhat of a freak because he managed the Cleveland Indians and played centerfield at the same time. Now there are Harris, Speaker, Ty Cobb, George Sisler, Collins and Dave Bancroft.

Remember Him?

Not so many years ago Joe Wood was rated one of the best pitchers in the major leagues. His smokeball was his big asset then. Well here he is as he looks today as coach of the Yale University diamond as pirants. And Joe by the way anticipates a good season for his collegians.

SMALL BOY DIES OF 'GREENS' POISONING

Roy Lemen Matthews, Age 3 Years, Unable to Survive Attack Suffered by Whole Family

AUTOPSY IS PERFORMED

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Matthews and Three Living Southeast of Minn., Indiana State Library

Roy Lemen Matthews, 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Matthews, living southeast of Milroy on the Cary O. Patton farm, died Friday evening at five o'clock, following a week's illness with poisoning, believed to have been caused from eating a mess of "greens."

The parents and two other children were all taken ill one week on Friday after having eaten a cooked gathering of several different kinds of "greens," including pope, dandelions, rhubarb leaves and horse radish tops.

Physicians were summoned to the home, and found all five members suffering with acute poisoning. All of the members of the family, excepting the smallest child, survived the attack by vomiting. The baby absorbed the poisoning, which went over his system. An autopsy was performed, but only a poisonous condition was found to exist.

Dr. M. C. Sexton of this city, one of the physicians, stated that it was believed that when the "greens" were picked, that some poison weed was picked by mistake and cooked with them.

The little boy was unconscious for several days. Besides the parents, he leaves the two older brothers.

Services will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence, in charge of the Rev. R. R. Cross, and burial will be made in the Milroy cemetery.

MERCHANDISE CARS ARE BROKEN INTO

Big Four Railroad Suffers Loss But Two Other Lines Escape Because of Their Contents

ROBBERS LIKED "SWEETS"

Freight cars on sidetracks of three railroads in Rushville were entered by thieves, it was discovered Friday noon by officials, but only the Big Four railroad reported any loss when two merchandise cars were ransacked.

In these cars, E. C. McMahon, local agent stated, the seals were broken, and the robbers searched among the contents. A check was made, and 150 pounds of candy consigned to the Wilcox Company was stolen, and also seven rugs consigned to Will Leach. The rugs, some of which were small ones, were valued at $135. In addition some groceries and two boxes of raisins, shipped to Winfield Stephens, local baker, were stolen, according to the check on the car.

The things stolen here would not harmonize with the contents of the other cars broken into, which included two car loads of fertilizer on the C. I. & W. tracks, and two car loads of wire fencing on the Nickel Plate tracks near their station in these cases, nothing was disturbed. Detectives from the railroads were expected today to start an investigation into the robberies.

TRACTION STATION ROBBED

Connersville, Ind., April 18—A robber, one having a small sized hand, made good his attempt at the I. & C. traction office station here Friday night during the supper hour, and took $43.18. DEMAND JUSTICE IN OBERHOLTZER CASE

Woman's Clubs Organizations of Indianapolis Pass Resolutions Seeking Thorough Inquiry

TRAGEDY IS DEPLORED

BULLETIN

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18—David C. Stephenson, ousted grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan of Indiana today was indicted by the Marion county grand jury on first degree murder charge, for the death of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, Indianapolis girl.

Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry, alleged conspirators in the kidnapping of Miss Oberholtzer from her father's home here, were also charged with murder.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18—Women's organizations of Indianapolis today demanded justice in the Oberholtzer case.

Aroused by evidence brought out at the coroner's inquest into the death of Miss Madge Oberholtzer from poison taken after an alleged attack by D. C. Stephenson, former Klan leader, half a dozen clubs passed resolutions calling for a thorough investigation and punishment of the offenders.

"We deplore the tragedy and want justice done," said resolutions passed by the Irrington Tuesday club, an organization of women living in the neighborhood of the Oberholtzer home. "Miss Oberholtzer was fearless and independent and we vouch for her splendid character."

Prosecutor Remy refused to give any intimation of his next move, saying he did not want to reveal his hand to the defense too soon.

Stephenson is already awaiting trial on indictments charging him with abducting and assaulting Miss Oberholtzer.

Newman T. Miller, state fire marshal, started an investigation of the blaze which gutted the interior of Stephenson's palatial home in Irrington early Friday.

Coroner Robinson's inquest was completed with the testimony of George Oberholtzer, father of the dead girl.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

The old and the most up-to-date methods of printing were contrasted when Winfield Scott Conde, better known as plain Scott, called at the Daily Republican office Friday evening to see the new Melbie Vertical, automatic feed job printing press which the Republican installed this week.

Mr. Conde, who is the oldest printer in Rushville, harks back to the early days when operating presses with electricity was unthought of and when automatic feeds were not regarded as within the realm of possibility.

Mr. Conde took up the printing trade sixty-eight years ago, when a lad of fifteen, and served an apprenticeship on local newspapers. He later worked on the old Indianapolis Journal and Indianapolis Sentinel. Mr. Conde is a veteran of the civil war.

NO COURT VACATION BETWEEN 2 TERMS

Week Ordinarily Elapsing Will be Devoted to Make up Time Lost Recently

ACTION TAKEN IN CASES

Blanche Riley Granted Divorce From Earl Riley on Payment of Costs—Special Judge Here

With the February term of court officially ending a week from today, April 25, there will be no vacation between court terms, and the present term will be extended during the week, according to Judge Sparks, who is taking this measure in order to make up lost time during his three weeks illness recently.

The court is anxious to dispose of as many cases as possible during the next few weeks, because the May term is a short one, and precedes the summer vacation.

Today in court, Judge Robert Murray of Muncie, judge of the Delaware Superior court, was here on an issue in the case of Lake vs. Lake of which he is special judge. The complaint was a venued suit from Fayette county several months ago, and today he sustained a demurrer to the amended complaint and sustained a motion filed by the plaintiff to file a second amended

Mystery Surrounds Identity of "Washington Attorney" on Whom Prosecution Depends

WILL BE KEPT A SECRET

Washington Attorneys Already Mentioned in Case Disclaim Knowledge of OH Deals

By PAUL R. MALLON (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Great Falls, Mont., April 18—Dramatic interest was aroused today when new developments deepened the mystery surrounding the identity of "the Washington attorney" upon whom the prosecution is depending for evidence to convict Senator Burton K. Wheeler, on trial here for alleged misuse of office.

John L. Slattery, chief prosecutor announced that he would keep the identity of his mystery witness secret until he goes on the stand this afternoon or Monday.

"I have promised the jury to furnish such a witness and I will do it," Slattery said.

Slattery made this statement as the trial went into its third day, after he had been informed that Peter O. Nyce, Washington attorney, now enroute here as a witness had authorized a statement through his law partner, former Senator George E. Chamberlain, that he knew nothing of a "shady million dollar deal," and that no effort had been made by Wheeler to interest him in such an affair.

The only two other Washington attorneys now here as witnesses disclaim any knowledge of the affair and the chief discussion in hotel corridors now centers around these strange developments, and the possibility of whether or not Slattery will be able to make his promise good.

It is now admitted that the chief hope of the prosecution centers in the ability to produce this witness. The defense claims that there is no such man and is anxiously waiting to be shown.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh, chief defense counsel intends to make an effort to have the case thrown out of court on the ground of insufficient evidence as soon as the prosecution is concluded.

Starting in with the third day Slattery produced records containing the history of the three government oil drilling permits and began the lengthy and tedious process of

PLANTS TREE IN HONOR OF TEACHER

Jackson School Pupils Observe Arbor Day by Paying Tribute to Miss Belle Gregg

FINE PROGRAM IS GIVEN

Cut Leaf Birch Planted in Front Yard of Building and Weeping Willow on North Side

Miss Belle Gregg, principal of the Jackson school building, was honored Friday afternoon at exercises held in connection with Arbor Day, and the pupils of the school planted a tree in the front yard of the school in memory of the pioneer teacher.

Miss Gregg stands foremost in the minds of the school children of Rushville, all of whom love her, and when Arbor Day was approaching, it was their plan to donate their pennies, with which to purchase the tree, and plant it in her memory.

A cut leaf birch, a rare species, was purchased for the occasion, and appropriate exercises commemorating Arbor Day were carried out by the school children, terminating with the planting of the tree.

Miss Gregg has been ill at her home for several weeks, and was unable to attend the ceremonies. Her condition shows improvement, and she is hoping that she will be able to attend her classes before school adjourns for the summer.

The teachers of the school also purchased a weeping willow tree, which was planted on the north side of the building. In planting the tree in honor of Miss Gregg, the pupils were told by Miss Elizabeth Flint, another teacher at the school, that it was being planted in her memory, and that they should watch it grow, and tell other children in later years that it had been planted in her honor.

Preceding the tree planting, a program was given by the pupils of all grades inside the main corridor of the building, impressing

TUBERCULOSIS CONTROL WORK TO BE DISCUSSED

Dr. Gibson, Federal Veterinarian, Will be Here Monday Evening For County Livestock Meeting

FARMERS ASKED TO ATTEND

Dr. Gibson, federal veterinarian in charge of livestock tuberculosis control work in Indiana, has consented to come to the Rush county meeting of livestock men, to be held at the court house assembly room Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, to explain the policies of the federal government.

Every livestock man in the county is urged to attend the meeting so that a general opinion expressive of the true sentiment in the county may be obtained.

It is known that a great number of Rush county farmers are anxious to get their cattle tested for tuberculosis. Up until last fall farmers of this county have been permitted to have their cattle tested and in case of reaction, they were reimbursed for their loss.

The federal men are now devoting their efforts to counties where the county program calls for a T. B. free area.

COMMANDERY WILL MAKE BIG SHOWING

Rushville Knights Templar Engage Headquarters at Claypool for State Conclave

TO HAVE NEWSBOYS BAND

Especially Anxious to be Well Represented Due to Will M. Sparks Being Grand Officer

Rushville commandery No. 49, Knights Templar, has engaged headquarters on the mezzanine floor of the Claypool hotel and is preparing to make a big showing at the seventy-first annual conclave in Indianapolis May 11 to 14 inclusive.

One of the big events of the conclave is the parade, which this year will be held on Tuesday, May 12, according to the custom there will be awarded three trophies to the three commanderies giving the best exhibition of drill, which will be held immediately following the parade. The Indianapolis News' Newsboys band will lead the local commandery in the parade.

Rushville commandery has won trophies in the past for attendance and this year will be an active competitor again.

Another reason for Rushville commandery's desire to take an active part in the state conclave is the fact that it is represented among the grand officers by Will M. Sparks, who is grand generalissimo. Under the custom of succession that is observed, he will be advanced at the conclave this year to deputy grand commander, and the following year, he will become grand commander.

The conclave will open Monday afternoon at two o'clock and at four o'clock a reception will be held at the Claypool hotel for wives and ladies of distinguished guests, followed by a banquet at 6:30 at the Claypool. The same evening there will be a dinner for past grand commanders.

Luncheon the following day will be served to Knights in uniform at the Scottish Rite cathedral and for visiting ladies at the Severin hotel. The parade will move at 1 p. m. There will be degree work at five o'clock and at eight a reception to the grand commander and officers of the grand commandery at the Murat temple.

The opening session of the grand commandery will be held at 9:30 Wednesday morning and there will be an automobile ride the same morning for ladies of distinguished guests. A luncheon for grand commanders

ANNUAL CLEAN-UP IS READY FOR NEXT WEEK

Residents of City Urged to Clean up Yards, Premises and Lots, to Help Beautify the City

FREE HAULING BY THE CITY

Attention was called today to the annual spring clean up in the city of Rushville next week, during which time the week has been set aside by Mayor Thomas in a proclamation, asking the people to follow the usual observance.

In keeping with the annual policy, the city street cleaning department and extra wagons will begin a canvass of the alleys about the middle of the week, and will haul away all accumulations that have been placed there.

The trash and rubbish to be hauled away free by the city, must be in bags, boxes or some kind of a container which will enable the men to load quickly, and not be bothered with shovels. Residents are urged to clean up their yards, premises, vacant lots and alleys and in this way, the entire city will be given a good cleaning for the summer.

Attention was called today to the fact that ashes do not constitute rubbish, and the city wagons will not haul away ashes. This expense must be borne by the persons who have ash piles. Tin cans, properly sacked, will be hauled.

SURVEY OF TORNADO DISTRICT NEEDED

Destruction Much Greater Than First Reports from Storm District Showed, it Was Discovered

PERMANENT AWARDS GIVEN

Red Cross Estimated 5,000 Cases in Area Will Need Awards For Property Damages

Indianapolis, Ind., April 18—A careful survey is still needed to determine the extent of loss and destruction caused by the tornado which swept through southern Indiana and Illinois last month, William Fortune, president of the Indianapolis chapter of the Red Cross, declared today.

The destruction was much greater than first reports from the storm district showed, Fortune declared. Many facts relative to insurance, indebtedness and needs of the storm victims are yet to be obtained.

Permanent awards to those who suffered most severely from the storm will be announced next, Fortune said. Many cases for awards are now ready for final consideration.

Work of determining the award assignments is being pushed as rapidly as possible.

The national organization of the Red Cross has estimated that 5,000 cases in the entire storm area will need awards for property damages. Fortune said. He believes this estimate is too low and that the actual number will be near 8,000.

The total number of cases in Indiana in which awards must be granted has been estimated at between 1,200 and 1,500. Fortune thinks this estimate is liberal.

The loss in Indiana has been placed as high as $4,000,000, while that for the entire storm area has been estimated at more than $20,000,000.

It is doubtful whether anything approximating an accurate estimate of the total damage will ever be obtained.

Total contributions received by the Indiana chapter of the Red Cross amount to nearly $105,000. The total contributions for rehabilitation of the whole storm area are upwards of $2,100,000.

The people of Chicago have been the largest contributors, with a total of $1,100,000 reported there. By use of the radio, Sears-Roebuck and company, with the cooperation of farm federations, have raised $300,000.

Fortune praised the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation for its work in the Indiana tornado area. The federation has aided scores of farmers in the stricken district in getting back on their feet.

Most of the land is being put under cultivation in spite of the fact that some of the farmers are living in tents and other makeshift shelters in order to do their work.

Many people in the storm area of Indiana are still so upset by the disaster that they are uncertain as to their needs. Others have shown a sense of pride that prevented them from disclosing their needs.

These two factors, Fortune said, have hampered the speedy and efficient administration of the work of rehabilitation.

People of Griffin, where the fury of the tornado was felt in greatest force in this state, are experiencing difficulty in getting back to their old lives, Fortune said.

The destruction in Griffin was so complete that business men and residents are finding it hard to re-establish themselves.

POULTRY FIELD DAY IS SET FOR NEXT THURSDAY

County Committee Selected Fred McCrory Farm and Roy Jones of Purdue Promises to Come

ARRANGED HERE LAST WINTER

A Rush county Poultry Field Day will be held next Thursday on the Fred McCrory farm east of Rushville, and one and a half miles southeast of Maunzy, in Union township, in accordance with plans made at the county poultry school last winter.

Roy Jones from the poultry extension department of Purdue has promised to be present and discuss feeding and brooding problems which the poultry producer is meeting at this season of the year, and it is believed those at the county poultry meeting last winter will be more than anxious to attend this meeting.

The McCrory farm was selected by the county poultry committee as Mr. McCrory has been working with poultry for 20 years, and during recent years has been breeding pure bred barred plymouth rocks. He has been conducting six breeding pens as Mr. Jones outlined last winter and keeping trap nest records on a number of birds. Anyone attending will be well repaid by exchanging a few ideas with Mr. McCrory, it is said.

"There is scarcely a farm in the county, where a number of chickens are raised, that there is not one or more poultry problems," stated Herschel VanMatre, county agent, today. Come and someone will be there whose experience will enable them to give a solution to your problem."

Tom Mix in "The Orphan"

When Clarence Mulford wrote "The Orphan" he furnished Tom Mix with the greatest motion picture story of his career. It came to the screen last night at the Castle theatre in a superb William Fox production under the title, "The Deadwood Coach." There are more thrills, more swift action, more humor and more scenic beauty in this production than in any Mix picture it has been our pleasure to review.

According to the producers, "The Deadwood Coach" was taken in Zion Canyon, Utah, and for a great picturesque background for this splendid romance of the old West, the location could not be surpassed. The stage coach hold up, the running fights with bandits, the grim hand to hand struggle on the brink of a towering cliff, all are presented in a setting so real, so beautiful as to make you wish that you lived in those blood-tingling days.

The story of "The Deadwood Coach" concerns the Orphan, an outlaw, who is feared throughout the territory, but who, in reality, is the enemy of only one man. When he was a boy, his father was killed by a marauder named Tex Wilson and the Orphan has dedicated his life to vengeance.

"Find Your Man," Princess

If you are fond of dogs, if you like good acting if you appreciate beautiful scenery, if you like thrills and unusual episodes, don't miss "Find Your Man," which is being shown today at the Princess theatre.

Rin-Tin-Tin, a dog with unusual intelligence, whose training cannot be compared to that of any other dog, plays the leading role in this production. He is seen as the courageous hero, risking his life to save his master as the sympathetic friend the bitter enemy. He feels and displays all the emotions of a human being. In fact, he seems to do everything but talk. Rin-Tin-Tin is an ex-soldier. It is said that he spent part of his puppyhood on the firing line of France. Perhaps that is what accounts for his fearlessness.

The story, which is laid in a beautiful lumber country, deals with a plot to steal Government timber, in which Paul Andrews, his dog and his sweetheart become involved. Buddy displays some marvelous athletic stunts when he aids in his master's escape from prison and then rescues him and his sweetheart from drowning. Eric St. Clair and June Marlowe show exceptional skill in their portrayal of Paul Andrews and Caroline Blair. Others in the case are Charles Mailes, Pat Hartigan, Fred Stanton, Lew Harvey and Charles Conklin.

WINS DUAL MEET AT CONNERSVILLE

Rushville High School Track and Field Team Walks Away With Most of the Events

TAKES ALL BUT 3 FIRSTS

Meet at Shelbyville This Afternoon and Triangular Contest at Greenfield Next Saturday

The Rushville high school track and field team won the dual match against Connorsville Friday afternoon in that city, with the final points being 62 to 37. The local squad, in charge of Coach Swain, will meet the team at Shelbyville this afternoon.

The locals show up exceptionally well considering the fact that they have not had much practice or training, and several men will no doubt be contenders in the state meet in May. The locals will take part in a triangular meet next Saturday at Greenfield, with Greensburg being the third team.

In the meet at Connorsville Friday, Rushville won all first places excepting three track events which went to Connorsville. These were the 440 yard dash, the half mile and mile run.

Rushville won first, second and third in the pole vault, with Newbold, Farthing and Arbuckle finishing, and Connorsville failed to place. Miller for Rushville won four firsts, one second and one third.

Miller made the 100 yard dash in eleven seconds and the 220 in 25 seconds. He also made the high hurdles. Lakin won the shot put at 40 feet, 9 inches. Newbold took the low hurdles and Farthing the high jump at 5 feet two inches and he also took second in the broad jump. Snider was second in the half mile.

Connorsville won the 440 yard with Thompson finishing first, and Butler for Connorsville was first in the half and mile run.

John M. Cooper, former employee of Gordon Campbell was yesterday's chief witness. His testimony showed that Wheeler was to get $10,000 a year for prosecuting receivership proceedings in Montana courts. Such action is not illegal, it was said. There was no mention of oil permits in any conversations, he said.

He said his daughter told him she repeatedly begged Stephenson on the way back from Hammond, where the poison was taken, to get medical attention for her but that he refused each time.

"Madge asked me once if I thought Stephenson would be sent to prison," Oberholtzer testified. "I told her I thought he would and she said she was so glad."

"She said Stephenson had told her he wasn't afraid of prosecution because his word was law in Indiana."

The mother of the dead girl was unable to testify at the inquest. She suffered a nervous breakdown after her daughter's funeral Thursday and physicians feared the strain of testifying would have dangerous consequences.

Playing Managers Coming Back

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

New York April 18—Appointment of Eddie Collins as manager of the Chicago White Sox increased the list of playing managers in the majors to six and placed three pennant contending clubs in the hands of a field director.

Perhaps the most distinguished of the playing managers is Buckey Harris, the youngest manager in baseball, who won a pennant and a world's championship his first time out with the Washington Senators.

Harris blew up two old theories that prompted major league club owners for a good many years to place the management of their clubs in the hands of a man on the bench or the sidelines.

Harris proved that the burden of management does not handicap necessarily the work of a player in the field. There is no doubt in some cases that the strain of directing a club does hurt a player's game, as in the case of Frankie Frisch. Frisch was appointed captain of the New York Giants last year and the captaincy of the National League champions involves more than

"How to Get Acquainted in Rushville," will be the theme of the first of a series of Sunday evening sermons at the First Presbyterian church, beginning tomorrow night, by the Rev. Gibson Wilson, the pastor.

Those finding it hard to get acquainted with the people of Rushville are urged by the pastor to attend this service.

"This is a most delightful city in which to live," said Mr. Wilson, "but you need friends and acquaintances with whom you can share your pleasures, and to whom you can go when in need of help. No matter how long you have lived in Rushville, if you need training in this art of getting acquainted, you are urged to be at this service."

The second sermon in the series will be How to Sell Rushville. This subject will also interest a great many people. In this series on community interests and community welfare, every man and woman, boy and girl can be of help to a bigger and better Rushville if they will but attend and get the suggestions, it is pointed out.

Other sermons in the series will be announced later. The pastor extends a hearty invitation to these Sunday night meetings.

At noon a pitch in dinner was served by the patrons of the school, being a surprise to the members of the faculty. In the afternoon the Juniors presented a mock funeral. At the first chords of a funeral march the Juniors entered the room, one pulling a cut wrapped in black crepe paper bearing the name "Juniors '25." "Nearer My God to Thee," with words revised, was sung by members of the class. The obituary of the Juniors was then read and a short talk given by the minister, the only boy in the Junior class, Clyde Gordon. Closing song, "Rock of Ages" completed the "Mock Funeral Ceremony."

Tokens were presented by the juniors to their teachers, Mrs. Stewart and Mr. Sipe, in appreciation for their kindness and assistance rendered to us in the past year.

And now at the close of this school term, we the Gings school, bid you "farewell."

TO THE PUBLIC

I wish to take this opportunity to express to the public my appreciation of their patronage during my business career while being connected with the Sanitary Meat Markets of Rushville.

Have sold my interest in the Second Street Market to Fred Perkins of Noblesville, a man capable of conducting the business in the future as it has been conducted in the past.

The Main Street Meat Market having been taken over by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., in connection with the grocery department will carry the same high grade of Meats as they do of Groceries.

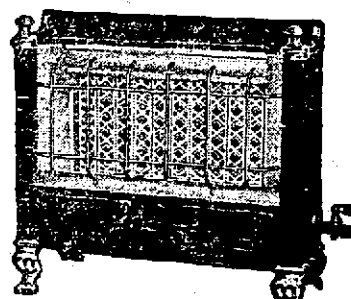

I wish to say that I will be in charge of this Department of the store until May 1st for the A. & P. Tea Co.

WITH MANY THANKS
